

PUBLIC SERVICES or CORPORATE WELFARE

Rethinking the Nation State in the Global Economy

DEXTER WHITFIELD

An essential, insightful and thought-provoking NEW book which:

- provides a radical analysis of modernisation including partnerships, private finance and Best Value;
- analyses how the state facilitates globalisation by promoting private finance and the marketisation of public services;
- exposes how the Third Way masks the continuity of neo-liberalism;
- demonstrates how the World Trade Organisation is committed to privatising public services and welfare states;
- charts the emergence of a Corporate-Welfare Complex;
- promotes a revitalised role for the state in a new system of global governance, stressing the importance of sustaining and improving the welfare state;
- advocates a dynamic new model of public service management placing priority on innovation, equality and investment as an alternative to the reinvention and performance management models.
